Under the leadership of Ira Lee, a group of members of long standing of the Board of Trustees, including David Druckman, Bea Kaplan, Nathan B. Kogan and Phyllis Siegel, have volunteered to assist in the raising of the $900,000 necessary to finish the Building Fund Campaign this summer.

Ira Lee states, "The Building Fund Campaign has been a one-man job too long. It is time we provided help to George Shapiro, Chairman of the Board, to raise the needed funds for the Building Fund Campaign NOW so that the new building can be furnished, equipped and fully paid this year."

"In conjunction with the campaign, it is our intention to prepare a historic brochure which will list the names of each donor of $1000 or more to the Building Fund Campaign."

"We also plan a Memorial Wall on the Main Floor to provide the opportunity to our fellow congregants, and friends of the congregation, to honor cherished family members."

"A pledge form appears on page 3 of this issue of the BULLETIN. Take a moment now to make your gift to the Building Fund. Don't wait to be called by the committee. Our new building is beautiful. We are very proud of our efforts to date. Help us help ourselves finish the job."

"For those who have consistently answered our appeals for help in the past, we thank you. If you wish to be counted in the finishing of the task, your help will be most appreciated. Make your pledge today; better still, pay off your pledge as soon as you can. Your dollars will make the difference in helping us all reach our goal of paying for the completion of the building by the end of the summer."

Counting Time

Time is money – how many times have we heard that phrase and accepted it as a fact of life? Certainly the wheels of the business world roll along on that simple statement. But is that the whole story? Is money the only measuring rod for time? Judaism says no. Time is the single most precious commodity given to us in our lives. This period which falls between Passover and Shavuot is called Sefirah which means, literally, counting. We count the days between these two festivals. We start counting on the second night of Passover and continue for 49 days to the advent of Shavuot. On each day, we add to the evening prayers a special blessing which ends in a proclamation stating how many days have passed and how many are left. Thus, during this period we are compelled to think about the intrinsic value of this ephemeral substance known as time.

Time is not only money – it is life. We count nine months before the birth of a child. We count the years it takes for that child to grow, day to day, year by year, into a mature person. We count the additional years that are added to life through the miracles of modern medicine. Surely, time is a gift of life itself.

Time is made precious too by its quality. When life is empty and devoid of meaning, then time stands still. It becomes a burden, instead of a privilege. On the other hand, when time is invested with activity, with excitement, with learning, it seems to speed by relentlessly.

Time resembles a moving picture. It moves along and every so often the film is stopped and we look at one shot and we revel in it. It is the picture of an important event in the life of a family. An event which will never return in exactly the same way. That particular piece of film must be treasured by all of us.

All Are Invited To Study Pirkei Avot With Rabbi Wechsler

Beginning Saturday afternoon, May 2, Jews throughout the world will begin the study of Pirkei Avot, "The Ethics of the Fathers." It is a tradition to study this famous treatise on ethical ideas during the six Sabbaths following Pesah so that Jews will be prepared for Shavuot, the holiday which celebrates the receiving of the Torah. So popular was the study of "Perek," as it has become known, that Jews continue to read it weekly throughout the summer until Rosh Hashanah.

You are invited to come to study with Rabbi Wechsler every Saturday afternoon at 5 P.M., from May 2 until the High Holy Days. All study is in English and everyone is welcome.

Time is an opportunity for us to grasp and utilize to its fullest. Every holiday, every meaningful event in our lives, every moment that we are given on this earth must be appreciated and used, and its beauty must be seen by all of us. The world about us, the changes of nature; every person with whom we come into contact; those whom we love who enhance our lives; those who need our help and an outstretched hand – these are the measurements of time. Yes, perhaps time is money. But it is more, so much more.

— Judah Nadich

Take The Time To Think Now And Plan For The Future

Death, funerals and burial plots are not pleasant subjects. But, sooner or later each of us must give some thought to these matters. When sorrow suddenly comes, members of the family often find it difficult to think clearly. Foresight can spare loved ones much anguish in the future.

Wisdom suggests that a family plot, or individual graves, in the beautiful and peaceful Park Avenue Synagogue grounds, Sharon Gardens of the Kensico Cemetery, located in Westchester County, can be arranged for, long before the actual need arises.

SCHOOL NEWS

Item: There are a few places still available in the Early Childhood Center program for the coming school year. Mrs. Edith Paul, Director of the program, suggests that parents act quickly if they are at all interested in the program. Interest is very high and the available places are being filled rapidly.

Item: The High School plans to hold its last Retreat of the school year on the weekend of May 29-31 at the Epworth Campsite in upper New York State. The weekend is one of fun, shabbat observance, tefillah, delicious meals and great baseball!

Item: In the archives of the Video-Tape Library, a library made possible by a grant from Mr. Harry Dubin, is, what has turned out to be, the last footage of many aspects of the Iranian Jewish community which was dislocated or destroyed by the Iranian Revolution. In 1976, the High School summer program traveled to the Jewish communities of Iran and Turkey, with their Port-a-Pak video-tape equipment. As a result of this trip, there now exists a magnificent collection of tapes about the cultural, religious and personal life of the Iran Jewish community. From the artistry of local silversmiths producing works of ritual art to the study of Torah in a Shiraz community school, these video-tapes have become a rich historical treasure. Funds are now needed to edit these tapes. Anyone interested in underwriting this project should contact Peter Geffen through the Synagogue Office.

Item: Twenty-one students, the largest number of students in the history of the high school program at Park Avenue Synagogue, will graduate from the high school program on the first day of Shavuot, Monday, June 8. As part of their graduation responsibilities, students will participate in the service as well as offer personal and creative additions to the service. Plan now to join the families of the graduates in celebrating the Simhah of graduation with them!

Item: This summer, a new program, supervised and administered by Peter Geffen, principal of the High School, will be inaugurated when 10 of its graduates, now college students, embark on an intensive training and education program in Israel. These young men and women will be given extensive training in preparation for assuming full staff obligations in future summer programs of our high school department. This program is a first: the first such college program offered by a Synagogue School; the first staff training program for Israel and for other summer travel programs. The students will be involved in a program rich in content and challenge: intensive Hebrew Ulpan, field work at historic sites in Israel with a focus on the development of a curriculum in order to be able to transmit the impor-

On Tuesday, May 5, a bus will leave promptly from in front of the Synagogue at 9:15 A.M. and travel to Brighton Beach in Brooklyn, to the community of Russian Jewish emigrés, whose settlement in the area has changed the face of the existing community.

Lunch and local entertainment will be provided before the group will once again board the bus for the return trip back across the bridge to Manhattan.

Cost of the trip is $10 a person including lunch and transportation. Reservations may be made by mailing your check, made out to Sisterhood, to the attention of Mrs. Seymour Wimpfheimer, Park Avenue Synagogue, 50 East 87 St., New York City 10028.

Item: Special thanks to Dr. and Mrs. Charles Barbanel for inviting the Bet Bet class, in which their son Eric is a student, to their home for a preparatory Seder; to Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Fisher for inviting the Bet Gimel class, in which their daughter Abby is a student; and to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Zuriff for inviting the Daled grade, in which their son Brian is a student.

Item: Noah Goldstein, Elizabeth and Marc Lerner, Jonathan Lowin and Ezra Wechsler woke up very early in order to participate in the Birkat Hahammah Shaharit Service on April 8. The service, which began at 7:30 A.M. and was conducted by Rabbi Wechsler and Cantor Lefkowitz, commemorates an event which, according to Talmudic tradition, occurs only once every 28 years when the sun returns to that place in the sky which it held when it was first created. All — children and adults alike — agreed that it was a wonderful way to start the day!
